To create a searchable resource list:

This is a neat feature that allows you to select and save titles to a book list that you can publish for your students or save for yourself. If you teach a unit every year and want to remember which books you used before, this will be very helpful. It will also allow those of you who like to have the library pull titles on a particular subject for you, to save those titles so we can easily pull them again the next year.

Select "Exit Quest" from the top row of menus. This will take you to the Basic Search screen.

Select "Resource Lists" on the left menu

Public lists are featured on the front page of Destiny for all patrons to see:

The screenshot displays the Destiny Quest website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for Quest Home, MyQuest, My Info, Advanced Search, Visual Search, Logout, and Exit Quest. A search bar is present with the text "Find: Enter your search here" and a "Go!" button. The user is identified as "Columbus High School" with a greeting "Hello, Teacher Teacher!".

The main content area features three large panels:

- THE TOP 10 BOOKS: A list of 10 books. The first book is "The outsiders, / by S. E. Hinton. F Hin".
- Resource Lists: A panel with "Most Recent" and "Search Lists" tabs. It lists "Dogs" and "Ultimate Teen Reading List".
- New Arrivals! A list of 5 books with their arrival dates: "Climate change" (8/22/2011), "Intellectual property rights" (8/22/2011), "Envy" (8/18/2011), "Marked" (8/18/2011), and "Hunted" (8/18/2011). A "NEXT" button is at the bottom.

On the right side, there is a "MyQuest Shelves" section with categories: "Have Read" (1), "Now Reading" (1), and "Want to Read" (2). Below this is a "Dogs" section with "Titles: 1" and a "Drag Drop" button.

At the bottom, the copyright notice reads "©2002-2011 Follett Software Company".

On the front page, all patrons can also see our newly added titles and the top ten circulated books.
